

CHEF RALPH FERACO, CEC AAC

*Executive Chef at Kensington Golf
& Country Club in Naples, Florida*

PERSONAL PROFILE & BIOGRAPHY

A graduate of Johnson & Wales University, Chef Feraco worked at the 5- Star Garden City Hotel, Nassau Country Club, and various top restaurants in Manhattan before taking the position of Executive Chef at the Naples Sailing & Yacht Club in 2002, where he served for eleven years prior to joining Kensington.

Chef Feraco has won more than 45 culinary awards most recently winning the 2017 Dr. L.J Minor Chef Professionalism award thru the American Culinary Federation, a International Gold and Silver Medals in 2004 and 2008 at the Culinary Olympics in Erfurt Germany and two Gold Medals in the Chef Super Challenge in 2008 and 2009.

Chef Feraco is a member of the prestigious American Academy of Chefs and the Chaine de Rotisseurs – Naples Chapter, as well Past-President of the American Culinary Federation Caxambas Chapter.

Chef Feraco has dedicated much of his time to charity, chairing the ACF scholarship golf classic helping raise money for culinary student scholarships and the culinary outreach programs where the chapter provide grants and money to members of the chapter and local culinary schools. he has also been involved with project graduation with the Local ACF Chapter in years past. He has done many cooking demo's for students in local high school cooking programs and mentored many young culinary students in his kitchen through the years.

Check out his website at www.Chefralphferaco.com.